

2019 ALANMGS – Federalist Party Keynote Speech

From beating sun to blooming sunflowers, we at the Federalist party realize this much: yellow is growth. Growth, indeed, is key in the eyes of the party. Every plant must have it's roots – we the people of the Federalist party believe in increased funding for schools, incentives for teachers, and creating a lasting sense of importance for education. Of course, no flower can grow in decimated environment – our party works tirelessly to pass environmental protection acts and respect the Earth that was given to us. After all, what would our great state be without it's infinite testaments to the many miracles of nature? To further promote growth, the Federalist party recognizes and works to support small, local business. As growth continues, we must also step back to the traditions and cultures that we are rooted in. The Federalist party supports and protects tradition and culture, as big business and greed has no place in the world of individual belief and culture. With these ideals in place, the Federalist party hopes to create a healthy, ever-growing New Mexico. A vote for Federalism is a vote for hope, harmony, and most of all, growth.
